Re: Book Challenge Procedures / Gender Queer

Dear Board Members:

The National Coalition Against Censorship is an alliance of national nonprofit groups dedicated to protecting freedom of expression, including the rights of K-12 students, teachers, and staff. We are writing to protest the District's recent removal of Gender Queer from school libraries shelves and to urge you to return the book to the shelves pending a formal review.

It is our understanding that the District did not follow its book challenge procedures regarding Gender Queer because, in the District's view, those procedures did not apply, perhaps because a complaint about the book was brought directly to the Board, rather than being filed at the school level, as is the norm.

We are writing to urge you to amend the District's procedures to ensure that all challenges are addressed pursuant to District regulations. Book challenges are often highly contentious and emotional, and the District's regulations are well crafted to ensure that all parties feel that they have been heard and respected, and also to ensure that decisions are made based on objective criteria which focus on the needs of students. For example, the regulations provide that a committee of educational professionals initially review the challenged work; that the committee consider the book as a whole; and that committee "should check the general acceptance of the materials by reading professional reviews[.]"

By exempting certain challenges from the District's regulations, the District has deprived itself, and its students, of the advantages of this very sound policy. Indeed, the removal of Gender Queer demonstrates the pitfalls of exempting certain challenges from the District's regulations. Gender Queer will not appeal to every student. But if every library book is required to serve every student, the shelves would be bare. A library, including a school library, is meant to include a broad selection of books that provide value to students. Gender Queer clearly has value for many students, especially "those who identify as nonbinary or asexual as well as for those who know someone who identifies that way and wish to better understand," as noted by the School Library Journal. It was a 2020 American Library Association Alex Award Winner, a 2020 Stonewall — Israel Fishman Non-fiction Award Honor Book. By exempting Gender Queer from the standard procedures, the District raises the suspicion that the removal of the book was motivated by hostility to the book's position on gender nonconformity.

Had the district's regulations been followed, the District might have decided that, notwithstanding certain brief sections that may be controversial when taken out of context, the needs of its students are best served by retaining Gender Queer on library shelves.

Therefore, we urge the District to return Gender Queer to the shelves until it has conducted a formal review and to amend its book challenge policy to ensure that the review policy is applied to all book challenges.

Thank you for your attention to this important issue.

Sincerely yours,
